

The Meerillo. The waterabsorbing recessed hand dryer.

As far as recessed hand dryers go, the Meerillo is unique. A discreet and porous ceramic drip stone positioned directly under the dryer's air outflow soaks up water blasted from wet hands in an instant - it's a sponge-like stone. The dryer's air jets then work to evaporate the locked-in moisture every time the dryer is activated. The result? No dirty water on walls, floors or the dryer itself. And no mould or grime from stagnant water. The Meerillo's maintenance-friendly design lets you remove the stone quickly and simply for easy cleaning. A sophisticated and discreet drip-free water capture system, recessed high speed dryers don't come more advanced than the Meerillo.
