

The Dillo. Stylish and scented dryer.

Washrooms should be a peaceful place, especially in noise sensitive environments like offices, restaurants and concert venues, where disturbances can be bad for business. Gently whooshing in at 72 decibels, the Dillo is considerably quieter than the average kitchen dishwasher, enabling meetings, meals and melodies to continue uninterrupted. Atmosphere shouldn't be your only concern. Young children and the elderly can easily be frightened by sudden loud noises, so if you're looking after facilities in a school, hospital or other public building, the ultra-quiet Dillo hand dryer is the perfect choice.
